Introduction

Love implies ‘heart to heart ties’ and not body to body affairs. This is the ideal concept of the four letter ‘LOVE’ have has divine nature. True love has the power to take one from physical existence to the plane of pure spirit.

Love is the form of energy, in which each individual transmits and receives every moment. It affects all forms of life, and is a peculiar possession, which grows with sharing. Love is the answer to the question, what in me loves and what in other person. It is the reflection of the same truth that one loves. Love helps us to overcome to sense of fear by promoting better understanding and appreciation. Since love springs from the truth, it is in the nature of righteous action and results in peace. Love is a silken cord uniting all the countless number of values, which permeate the whole universe and without it, peace will be turned into piece.
Righteous conduct could have no meaning truth will be a mere mockery and non-violence an abstract term. Love gives and forgiveness. Duty without love is deplorable. Duty with love is desirable. Love without duty is divine.

Love is a variety of different feelings states and attitudes that ranges from interpersonal affection (I love my mentally restarted daughter) to pleasure (I love that meal) it can refer to an emotion of a strong attraction and personal attachment.

Love is expressed as an action and experienced as a feeling.

Some psychologists as one of the irreducible elements consider love in the effective side of consciousness. Truth leads to Dharma or righteousness, which unfolds in shanti or peace and blossoms into prema or love. On the other hand the loving mother, the ardent patriot and the devotee of God are also inspired to make the noble sacrifices and commendable actions through the intensity and sincerity of their love. Some people believe that love an objective emotion is considered as rational and as it represents what is typically human, it is basis of morality. REID has said that “the meaning of love to cover all aspects of human nature, without a corresponding boarding of the term reason, with the result that his criteria of creativity and intuitive certification of values are not adequate guides to morality. Tagore has said regarding love that all our personal relationship has an infinite medium, which is love, Anad. Truth, knowledge and joy are constitutive of reality as they are constitutive of the divine of person. Gandhi has said that Ahimas is equivalent to love. Swami vivkananda has said that strong emotions have capacity to awaken and activate the potential powers of man.Ordinary love can be converted into powerful feelings, ordinary can be converted into divine love or supreme love and devotion.

In the simple words, we can say that love is the expression of the individual divine within and is the power of soul. In the other words, we can say that love is a positive response to an attraction is called love.

An individual whose mental quotient is below 70 is normally spoken of as mentally retarded. Slow learner comes under the IQ between 70 and 85. The mentally retarded is usually maladjusted.
